Cranleigh's green spaces are greatly valued by local residents with 96% of respondents to survey 3 supporting the objective to protect these areas.

Cranleigh has a wealth of environmental areas including ancient woodland and priority habitats, which contribute towards its biodiversity and the well-being and enjoyment of the community. There are 26 sites of Nature Conservation Importance with several large sites to the east of Cranleigh, to the north and south of Ewhurst Road. Cranleigh Common (strategic open land within a built up area), Snoxhall Fields, the Bruce McKenzie Memorial Field and the Beryl Harvey Field provide a range of natural habitats for wildlife.

These sites were presented to the community during a consultation in July 2018 (see appendix I)

The local green spaces proposed by the Neighbourhood Plan are:

What is the site area (in hectares)?

31.43 hectares. Being some 31 hectares in size we understand this space could possibly be regarded as 'an extensive tract' and so be ineligible as an LGS under NPPF rules. However, the East Horsley Neighbourhood Plan designated Sheepleas an area of 39 hectares as an LGS in recognition of the very special importance which this space plays in the lives of East Horsley residents. The Showground is a coherent site within reasonable proximity of the community it serves. Its ecological value, beauty and landscape value together with its recreational opportunities means its designation meets the Basic Conditions. A site of this size and level aspect is necessary as a venue to hold the annual Cranleigh Show.

Organisation or individual proposing site for designation.

Who owns the site? Information on land ownership can be obtained from the Land Registry.

Cranleigh Parish Council Neighbourhood Plan

Cranleigh and South Eastern Agricultural Society.

The Society, which is a registered charity, was formerly known as the Cranleigh and West Surrey Farming Club, was founded in 1946 in the aftermath of the Second World War. It was formed 'to promote, maintain, improve and advance agriculture; to promote good farming and the advancement of the breeding and rearing of livestock, poultry and horses and to foster and maintain the education of the public and its interest and awareness in the agricultural industry generally. The Society organises the annual Cranleigh Show.

Is the owner of the site aware of the potential designation? Do they support the designation? Sites may be designated as Local Green Spaces, even if there are objections from the site Owners

Yes the owner has been advised of the inclusion of this land as a local designated green space. The Cranleigh and South Eastern Agricultural Society have responded as follows" The showground is 70 acres of privately owned agricultural land with one public footpath passing through it. In the circumstances the trustees do not feel that it would be appropriate for it to be designated as Local Green Space."

Do you know if there is currently a planning application or permission for this site? Is the site allocated (in part or full) for development in the existing Local Plan or Neighbourhood Plan?

Is the site subject to any national or local designations or protections? These include Village Green status, Common Land, Green Belt, SSSI, AONB, Local Wildlife Sites.

There is no application or permission

Not allocated for development

Areas designated as Area of Great Landscape Value, areas of Ancient Woodland. One public footpath crosses the site no. 364. Footpath no. 364a runs through land to the north east of the Showground, whilst footpath no. 365 runs through land to the south east of the site, in both cases on land owned by third parties. In addition to a public bridleway no. 361 which borders the eastern edge of the site and goes through Furzefield Copse.

Fishpond Copse, part of the land owned by the Society, is a Surrey Demonstration Woodland. The site has been in receipt of grants from The Woodland Grant Scheme (WGS) and English Woodland Grant Schemes which provided incentives for the creation and stewardship of woodlands. Parts of the site are also identified as Priority Woodland Habitat in the Magic database

Surrey Wildlife Trust have confirmed that the main interest on the site is the Fishpond Copse section which is classified as a site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI) for its ancient semi natural woodland.

Size, scale and local character of proposed Local Green Space

Is the site an "extensive tract of land"? Is its size a reflection of its purpose or value? How large is it in relation to the settlement?

The site is of a level sizeable area yet is reflective of its main purpose to host the annual Cranleigh Agricultural Show which requires a site of this size. Cranleigh Is in a rural location and this area is reflective of Cranleigh's farming heritage. In 2017 the Society reported in total over 10,000 visitors to the site for this event alone. The value of this area to Cranleigh is multi-fold, as an event area, for recreation, for tranquillity, for education and for biodiversity. The area is less than 8% of the total Cranleigh settlement area. This excludes the rural settlement of Rowly which also benefits from this site.

Is the proposed site "local in character"? How does it relate to surrounding settlement?

The site is unique in Cranleigh and local in character. It hosts many large events for the community and surrounding areas throughout the calendar year; Annual Classic Car Show, this year the Surrey Hills Wood Fair 2021, as well as providing all year-round access for community groups and walkers.

How far is the site from the community it serves?

It is well connected to the village and adjacent to the community it serves. It is approximately 800m from the village centre.

Is the site publicly accessible?

It is accessible to all via a public footpath. No. 364 runs through the site. Footpath no. 364a, which joins up to no. 364, runs through land to the north east of the Showground, whilst footpath no. 365 runs through land to the south east of the site. The Society's Ancient Woodland, is open to school groups throughout the spring and summer, providing local schools with the opportunity for a very informative and educational trip away from the classroom. The Showground is also open to local scout groups and other youth groups for use throughout the year. Public events including the Cranleigh Show are held throughout the year.

Is the site demonstrably special to the local community and hold a particular local significance?

What evidence has been submitted to show that the site is "demonstrably special to a local community?" This can include statements from residents, the town or Parish Council, other community groups, organisations such as schools, the CPRE or Sport England, letters of support, resident surveys, and petitions

The Parish Council is submitting the site as a green space in the Neighbourhood Plan. In an informal consultation with residents in July 2018 - 94 people confirmed that the Common should be designated as a local green space with 0 objections.

Comments also available from residents during informal consultation July 2018.

Is the site of particular importance due to its beauty? Does the site provide or feature in important views, contain particularly attractive features, and is it subject to any landscape designations?

The site is of particular importance with an area of Ancient Woodland and an Area of Great Landscape Value, it also is adjacent to the Surrey Hills AONB. The showground field provides a setting to the woodland and distant hills, with a strong pastoral character, and with the boundary formed of the AGLV and AONB to the north-east and north. The woodland is part of an area of Priority Habitat of Deciduous Woodland (Magic database) and is listed in the National Forest Inventory as Broadleaved Woodland. It is a Priority area for Countryside Stewardship measures addressing Brown Hairstreak and Lapwing habitat issues.

Is the site of particular historic significance?
Does the site contribute to the setting of any heritage assets, is it featured in art or literature, is it associated with any important historic events or the development of the village?
Is the site of particular recreational value?
Is it used for sports, or informal recreation such as dog walking? How long has it been used, and who has access?

It is the venue for the annual Cranleigh Show (celebrating agriculture and rural life)

The site is of particular recreational value and popular for walkers including those walking dogs on a daily basis and then for the major events running throughout the year. The land was originally part of Park Green Farm, Park Green Cottage is a Grade II listed building built around C17. The land was first used for the Cranleigh Show celebrating rural life and agriculture in 1982 when it moved from its Knowle Lane site. There are also other regular events including an annual classic car show.

Is the site of particular value for its tranquillity? Is the site secluded? Has the site been recognised as tranquil, for example through the CPRE's tranquillity maps?

It is a quiet and secluded area for daily walking as it is not interrupted by any roads and is flanked in the main by ancient woodland and with views of the Surrey Hills AONB beyond (see Photo).

Is the site if particular value with respect to wildlife and biodiversity? Is the site subject of any formal wildlife designations? Have surveys identified the presence of priority habitats or species? Is the site subject of any local enhancement or monitoring projects by the local community?

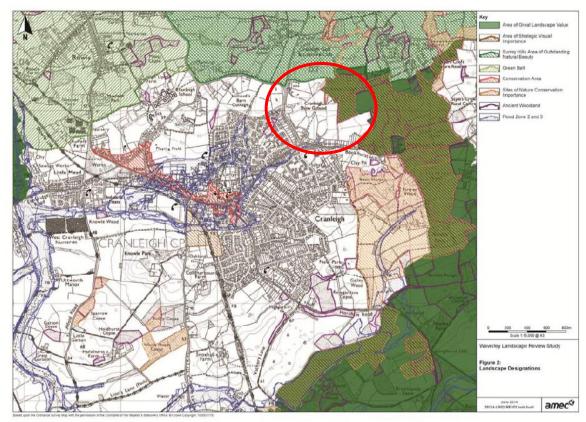

Surrey Wildlife Trust have confirmed that the main interest on the site is the Fishpond Copse section which is classified as a site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI) for its ancient semi natural woodland. Surveys carried out there in both 1995 and 2005 by SWT ecologists found wildlife interest within the site to be high supporting an abundant flora including 26 ancient woodland indicator species.

Is the site of particular importance for any other reason? Does it form a key gateway into the village, or form an important part of the townscape?

Great Crested newts have been recorded within 500m of the site but not on the site itself.

Yes it is extremely important to the community of Cranleigh the Cranleigh Show alone attracts some 10,000 visitors and provides a link with Cranleigh's rural past and current rural businesses. Cranleigh is surrounded by working farms whose contribution to the local economy and their custodianship of our beautiful countryside can be seriously undervalued and overlooked. Also see comments from informal consultation July 2018.

2.89 hectares in total Cranleigh Parish Council Neighbourhood Plan

Owned by Waverley Borough Council

Yes Waverley Borough Council agree to the designation.

Do you know if there is currently a planning application or permission for this site? Is the site allocated (in part or full) for development in the existing Local Plan or Neighbourhood Plan?

Is the site subject to any national or local designations or protections? These include Village Green status, Common Land, Green Belt, SSSI, AONB, Local Wildlife Sites.

There is no application or permission

Not allocated for development

No designations or protections in place but has been awarded green flag status.

Size, scale and local character of proposed Local Green Space

Is the site an "extensive tract of land"? Is its size a reflection of its purpose or value? How large is it in relation to the settlement?

Is the proposed site "local in character"? How does it relate to surrounding settlement?

The green space constitutes a number of small spaces situated amongst the housing of the Summerlands Estate. The areas individually are not extensive tracts of land. The size reflects its recreational use and visual amenity value for residents of the estate. It is approximately 1 % of the settlement area (excluding Rowly). The spaces are situated within the estate and adjacent to the houses they serve.

The ambience and openness of the Summerlands Estate are created mainly by these green spaces, both large and small, and many unfenced front gardens located within its boundaries. These spaces include

The grassed area south of Slip of Wood

Peregrine Green where charity events are occasionally held

Kiln Copse and Green

How far is the site from the community it serves?

Is the site publicly accessible?

Within the community.

Yes, it is accessible to the public at all times.

Is the site demonstrably special to the local community and hold a particular local significance?

What evidence has been submitted to show that the site is "demonstrably special to a local community?"

The areas have been put forward by the Summerlands Estate Residents' Association (SERA) and this is also supported by Cranleigh Parish Council. In the informal consultation in July 2018 84 residents supported the designation with 0 objections. Individual comments from the consultation supporting the designation have been submitted.

Is the site of particular importance due to its beauty? Does the site provide or feature in important views, contain particularly attractive features, and is it subject to any landscape designations?

Is the site of particular historic significance?

Does the site contribute to the setting of any heritage assets, is it featured in art or literature, is it associated with any important historic events or the development of the village?

Is the site of particular recreational value? Is it used for sports, or informal recreation such as dog walking? How long has it been used, and who has access?

Is the site if particular value with respect to wildlife and biodiversity? Is the site subject of any formal wildlife designations? Have surveys identified the presence of priority habitats or species? Is the site subject of any local enhancement or monitoring projects by the local community?

The green spaces provide a welcome break in the built form and are valued for their visual amenity. They include the Ancient Woodland of Kiln Copse and a wildlife pond supporting Great Crested Newts.

Historically the estate was farmland owned by Captain Percy Lovell Butt who arranged for a man-made trout pond, however the pond never successfully fulfilled the role and has since become a wildlife pond.

Yes the areas are all public and used for recreation on a daily basis, including walking and have been since the estate was built in the 1960's. Informal sports take place on the larger green areas and the largest green area on the centre of the estate has been used for residents' events. The very active residents' association have a formal partnership arrangement for maintaining these green spaces and encouraging wildlife.

The central corridor of the largest green space and woodland is surprisingly secluded and tranquil.

The Summerlands Estate Residents' Association maintain the green spaces together with Waverley Borough Council in a formal arrangement. A copy of the management plan is attached which provides further details of these areas: "Summerlands Estate supports five of the six UK amphibians; common frog, common toad, great crested newt, palmate newt, and smooth newt.

Great crested newts are the biggest native newt species in the UK; despite a wide distribution across the UK this remains patchy with recent declines affording them protection under the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981. They are also listed as a European Protected Species under Annex IV of the European Habitats Directive.

Common toad is a priority species under the Biodiversity Framework and is protected by law from sale and trade.

Hedgehogs and badgers have been seen on site which are UK BAP Priority Species."

Kiln Copse is identified as Ancient Woodland and the area is identified as Priority Habitat Inventory - Deciduous Woodland (England) on the Magic Database.

This is a Priority area for Countryside Stewardship measures addressing Brown Hairstreak and Lapwing habitat issues.

Is the site of particular importance for any other reason? Does it form a key gateway into the village, or form an important part of the townscape?

It forms an important part of the general townscape of Cranleigh which incorporates public grassed areas, public greens, trees and open spaces, as highlighted in the Cranleigh Design Statement 2008 (Supplementary Planning Document) in the design guidelines stated that development should "retain the balance of buildings and open spaces within present and future residential areas."

There is no application or permission

Not allocated for development

The site is designated under 'Field in Trust' and is part of the Area of Strategic Visual Importance (ASVI).

Waverley's Landscape Review June 2014 also records this area as a site of Nature Conservation Importance

Size, scale and local character of proposed Local Green Space

Is the site an "extensive tract of land"? Is its size a reflection of its purpose or value? How large is it in relation to the settlement?

No is not an extensive tract of land. Its size reflects the requirement of Cranleigh Football club and different groups that use the land for recreation (see Appendix A).

The area covers less than 3% of the Cranleigh area (excluding Rowly).

The Playing Pitch Strategy 2018 has identified the need for more recreation space within the village.

Is the proposed site "local in character"? How does it relate to surrounding settlement?

Yes it of 'local in character' and typical of the surrounding low Weald landscape, comprised of small fields enclosed by strips of woodland (shaws) and non-continuous hedgerows containing native species with views to the undulating landscape beyond including key views of the Surrey Hills AONB. It has been the home of Cranleigh Football Club since 1893 when the club was founded, although there is evidence that organised football had been played in the village prior to this date. The Downs Link path (public right of way, bridleway and cycle route) runs through the Area as well as public footpath. It is valued by the local community and used for recreation, including picnics, walking and sporting activities.

The site also contributes the village character and setting providing a smooth transition between the built environment and the countryside beyond and linking into and integrating the settlement of Cranleigh within its rural landscape. See Cranleigh Parish Council ASVI Review 2018.

The recent addition of the Centenary Garden on a corner of Snoxhall Fields was created to commemorate local people who died in conflict over the past 100 years and the signing of the Armistice.

The site is adjacent to and integrated within the community it serves.

Yes. It is available to use at all times. The Downs Link Bridleway crosses the site (BW566) in addition to a public footpath (FP378).

How far is the site from the community it serves?

Is the site publicly accessible?

Is the site demonstrably special to the local community and hold a particular local significance?

What evidence has been submitted to show that the site is "demonstrably special to a local community?"

In the Neighbourhood Plan informal consultation July 2018 96 people with 0 objections supported the designation of Snoxhall as a local green space. Individual comments on the designation are available. The Parish Council is fully supportive of this application.

Is the site of particular importance due to its beauty?

Views for users of Snoxhall Fields are open and include the Surrey Hills AONB (see photo) and this now includes the Centenary Garden commemorating the Armistice. It has been designated as part of the ASVI.

Is the site of particular historic significance?

It is likely that the site was at some point part of Knowle Manor, and by the 1830's was part of Knowle Farm. What is now known as Snoxhall Field was left to the community under Parish Council care in 1948, the area was expanded in 1971 when the Parish Council purchased an additional adjacent area. The area of Snoxhall Fields to the east of the Downs Link path is held on charitable trust and the entire area is registered under Fields in Trust.

Is the site of particular recreational value?

The site hosts Cranleigh Football club with some 300 members across all ages. The pavilion building on Snoxhall Field hosts various clubs in the week, with the football club using it at weekends and for training purposes during the week. Various other groups hire the pavilion for different activities and many people use the sports fields and the equipped play area (see Appendix A). The new Centenary Garden also provides an important area to walk to and sit and enjoy the surroundings. This is the main public recreation area in the village and used by many walkers.

Is the site of particular value for its tranquillity?

The area provides a tranquil green space in the heart of the built-up area of the village with access to the Downs Link path which extends from Guildford via Cranleigh to Shoreham. The Littlemead Brook runs to the north of the site. The Field is a Priority area for Countryside Stewardship measures addressing Brown Hairstreak and Lapwing habitat issues. The northern part of the site also includes an area of High Priority Woodland Habitat (Magic database). Waverley's Landscape Review June 2014 also records this area as a site of Nature Conservation Importance, the status of which is even more critical in the light of recent significant planning decisions on adjacent agricultural land (see map below).

Is the site if particular value with respect to wildlife and biodiversity?

Is the site of particular importance for any other reason?

With the recent significant planning applications approved for an expansive area west of this land for 765 new dwellings, extending from Knowle Lane up to and including West Cranleigh Nurseries on the Alfold Road, this distinctive open area is even more important, and distinct, providing a central and open view for both residents of Cranleigh and visitors.

Is the proposed site "local in character"? How does it relate to surrounding settlement?

How far is the site from the community it serves?

Is the site publicly accessible?

The site is not an extensive tract of land. The areas include a public play park and the other green space acts as a buffer and wildlife corridor between Cranleigh Ponds and the Queensway estate. The site is less than 0.5% of the Cranleigh settlement area (excluding Rowly)

It is of local character to Cranleigh which has always integrated public green spaces and street trees into the built environment. It is immediately adjacent to the community it serves.

The site is open to all and the play park serves the wider area of Cranleigh Mead as well.

Is the site demonstrably special to the local community and hold a particular local significance?

What evidence has been submitted to show that the site is "demonstrably special to a local community?"

In the informal community consultation held in July 2018 73 respondents supported the designation of this area as local green space with 0 objections. Individual comments are also available.

It is also supported by Cranleigh Parish Council and Waverley Borough Council.

The area is not subject to any landscape designations.

Is the site of particular recreational value? Is it used for sports, or informal recreation such as dog walking? How long has it been used, and who has access?

N/A

The site is of considerable recreational value for those who live on the Queensway estate. These dwellings have relatively small gardens and the green spaces were provided as important residential amenity areas. This is the only equipped play area on the eastern side of the village and is used by a wide area. The site has been available for some 50 years and all residents have access.

A Public footpath (FP 372) runs to the east of the designated play area in a south/north direction.

the west of Taylors Crescent. It is listed in the National Forest Inventory as Broadleaved Woodland and a UK BAP priority habitat which covers a wide range of semi-natural habitat types, and were those that were identified as being the most threatened and requiring conservation action under the UK Biodiversity Action Plan. The mature specimen trees within the green areas provide suitable habitat for bats and potential for several other species.

These areas are fragments of Stubbs Copse, a wider wooded area highlighted on maps of Cranleigh going back to 1896.

It is a Priority area for Countryside Stewardship measures addressing Brown Hairstreak and Lapwing habitat issues.

The Littlemead Brook also runs to the north of the estate behind the large apartment block on Hailey Place. This flows into Cranleigh Waters and forms part of the Wey river catchment area.

The woodland to the north of the site fronting onto the Ewhurst Road enhances the character and setting of Parkhouse Green which forms the key gateway into the village from the eastern approach road from the village of Ewhurst.

Is the site of particular importance for any other reason? Does it form a key gateway into the village, or form an important part of the townscape?

The Parish Council supports the designation of this area as a green space.

During an informal consultation in July 2018 81 residents supported this designation with 0 objections. Individual comments also available.

The site is an attractive open green space surrounded on three sides by mature trees and was very likely to have been part of the New Park Estate dating back to the 15th century.

It is not of historic significance. There are several older properties on the boundary of the site.

Substantial recreational and amenity area for the housing estate in immediate proximity to the community it serves, also provides an important break in the built form and a pleasing visual amenity for residents. Used on a daily basis for dog walking and informal sporting activities since late 1960s when the housing estate was built.

Does the site contribute to the setting of any heritage assets, is it featured in art or literature, is it associated with any important historic events or the development of the village? The green contributes greatly to the setting of a number of heritage assets, including Listed Buildings:

The Obelisk. Erected in 1794 by Dr. Jacob Ellery to commemorate the opening of the turnpike road through Cranleigh from Guildford to Horsham.

Belweathers House. Late C15/Early C16, restored in Cl9 10 by E. W. Marshall. Home of the Peek Institute was founded by the late Sir H. W. Peek, in memory of Lady Peek. It included a club, with reading and billiard rooms, and a library.

Lych Gate of St Nicolas Church. 1880 built by Mrs Bradshaw of Knowle, in memory of her husband.

The Causey. Late C16 with C18 alterations and C19 and C20 extensions to ends.

Also, several Buildings of Local Merit including The National School building that is now the Arts Centre.

It is an historic village style green and part of the original settlement of Cranleigh which grew up in 1876 focused around St Nicolas Church. Cranleigh's eastern common was centred on Lucks Green and originally encompassed a much wider area including the area of the Church and High Street / Ewhurst Road stretching down to Knowle Lane. The green contributes to the setting of the surrounding buildings of local merit on either side of Horsham Road. Identified in green on the Waverley Borough Council interactive planning map below.

It has had public access since 1876 when the area around this green began to be developed. It is an area of great visual amenity for residents and visitors alike. Clear desire path lines have been forged across Lucks Green to link the Horsham Road with Mead Road and to use the benches positioned on the green.

The site is maintained by Waverley Borough Council. There has been a recent project to enhance and protect the grassed area with the installation of small bollards. A small stream runs down the eastern edge of the site.

Priority area for Countryside Stewardship measures addressing Brown Hairstreak and Lapwing habitat issues (Magic database)

Lucks Green is a key character feature identified in the Conservation Area Appraisal adopted 19 July 2016. If forms part of the identified Charcater Area 4 (ChA4 The eastern edge)

The eastern edge of the CA is predominantly residential in character. The high street divides at the Obelisk into Horsham Road to the southeast and Ewhurst Road to the north-east. Each of these roads become increasingly residential as they leave the village centre area. Along Ewhurst Road, the CA ends just beyond the White Hart pub, and includes some commercial buildings to the south side of the road. Horsham Road is characterised by a transition into a more suburban area with larger buildings and a relatively large open green (Lucks Green) on the eastern side of the road.

The Old Evangelical Church and Brookmead, Horsham Road, are two new additions to this area.

The designation is fully supported by Cranleigh Parish Council and Waverley Borough Council. During the informal consultation on the Neighbourhood Plan in July 2018 67 residents supported the designation as a green space with 2 objections with individual comments highlighting the visual amenity of the area.

It is an attractive green space amongst a developed area.

Parkhouse Green contributes significantly to the setting of Park Green Cottage a Grade II Listed Building that fronts onto the green. The cottage dates back to the 17th Century. The green was part of Park House Farm and is marked on the British Library pen and ink map dated 1806 Draughtsman: Budgen, Thomas. Parkhouse Green was also the original setting for the Cranleigh Bonfire celebrations which commenced in approximately 1947.

Public Footpath (FP364) links Parkhouse Green with Cranleigh Showground and is an extremely popular spot with many walkers on a daily basis, including dog walkers. The footpath has been used from at least 1967.

Waverley Borough Council transferred the allotments to The Parish Council on 15 December 2003. The site is of great recreational value for the allotment holders who grow their own produce. There are 33 plots but 41 plot holders as 8 are split plots. Studies by Westminster and Essex universities in 2015 showed that there were clear benefits to well-being with improvements in mood and self-esteem recorded from gardening in an allotment. There is also a cohesive and supportive community on site with an annual barbeque for all allotment holders. Plot holders are members of the National Allotment Society.

Wildlife Trust are currently planning a river improvement project on Cranleigh Waters, which runs on the western edge of the site which should have a positive impact on the river's biodiversity and water quality. With new dwellings being built in the area with many flats and houses with no or much smaller gardens the demand for allotments is forecast to rise. This site on the edge of the settlement and on the main access road into the village is the gateway to the Cranleigh settlement and reminiscent of Cranleigh's rich farming and rural heritage, now seriously under threat.

Is the site of particular historic significance? Does the site contribute to the setting of any heritage assets, is it featured in art or literature, is it associated with any important historic events or the development of the village? The Beryl Harvey Field in Knowle Lane, was donated to the Parish Council in 1970 by Mr Gordon Harvey in memory of his late wife and was to be used as a public open space in perpetuity. The field covers 3.5 acres and in 1987 the Council designated the southern end of the Beryl Harvey Field (around two acres) as a Conservation Area. The remaining 1.5 acres is laid to allotments.

This approximately two-acre site is owned by Cranleigh Parish Council on behalf of, and for the benefit of, the Cranleigh community. It is dedicated as a public playing field and recreation ground including allotments and is a Fields in Trust Protected Site. The allotments are statutory allotments in accordance with the Small Holdings and Allotments Act 1908, s23 (1) and the allotment holders are members of the National Allotment Society.

The conservation field has been managed by Cranleigh and District Conservation Volunteers since 1987. It is open to members of the public all year round and much appreciated by residents, visitors and local children's groups.

Is the site of particular recreational value? Is it used for sports, or informal recreation such as dog walking? How long has it been used, and who has access?

The field has been in use since 1970.

The recreational value to the community is through the use of the allotments. There are 34 plots but 36 plot holders as 2 are split plots. There is currently a waiting list for plots. Access to the conservation field is available at all times.

The conservation field is used for regular teaching for school groups by a local natural history teacher. The brownies and scouts also visit for pond dipping trips.

The Conservation Group volunteers meet on the second Sunday of the month and have an agreed annual management programme with the Parish Council.

Is the site if particular value with respect to wildlife and biodiversity? Is the site subject of any formal wildlife designations? Have surveys identified the presence of priority habitats or species? Is the site subject of any local enhancement or monitoring projects by the local community?

This is a quiet site situated near to the rural southern fringe of the village. In the Surrey Landscape Character Assessment: Waverley Borough April 2015 this area was designated as part of the landscape character area WW6 which is described as "A rural tranquil landscape, due to limited influence from settlement and road, and woodland blocks."

The wildlife and biodiversity of the site is a particular feature. This includes:

- Badger set
- Bat boxes
- Owl boxes
- Woodpiles
- Pond
- Trees grassland
- Hedgerows

There is a corridor area of Broadleaved Woodland to the western edge of the site where it abuts Knowle Lane that is listed on the National Forest Inventory England 2014 and marked as Priority Habitat Inventory - Deciduous Woodland (England) on the Magic database. It is a Priority area for Countryside Stewardship measures addressing Brown Hairstreak and Lapwing habitat issues (Magic database).

The Cranleigh and District Conservation Group monitor and manage the Conservation Field. One of the Conservation Group members has commented – "In spring a wide range of flowers start to bloom - amongst the earliest are roses, bluebells, an increasing number of cowslips and many common spotted orchids (These are quite rare in Cranleigh). A small number of native wild daffodils have been established. A good variety of birds can be seen and heard, some undoubtedly attracted by the pond and nest boxes. In June 2015 there were over 150 orchids established on the field and a mature Grass snake was observed.

As we move into summer more flowers appear including lady's bedstraw, betony and birdsfoot trefoil (food plant for the common blue butterfly). Later, in good years, clouds of Common Blue Butterflies can be seen, together with Meadow Brown, Gatekeeper, Large and Small Skipper, Large and Small White, Comma, Small Tortoiseshell, Painted Lady, Holly Blue, Orange-tip, Peacock and Red Admiral, enjoying nectar from the profusion of knotweed flowers. There are also occasional sightings of Small Copper and Green Hairstreak. Several species of dragonfly can be seen around the now, well established pond and it's not unusual to see a fox with her cubs that were born on-site.

Autumn can produce large numbers of fungi and wild fruit for birds, lots of conkers on the southern boundary and good leaf colour. A flock of gold finches feed on the knotweed seed heads.

See attached Plant and Animal Surveys

Is the site of particular importance for any other reason? Does it form a key gateway into the village, or form an important part of the townscape?

The allotments and the conservation field form an important part of the rural backdrop for the townscape. With a 38% increase in dwellings in the village, the surrounding green fields around this area will be all but developed. This leafy green space creates a welcome break in the built form and is positioned on the main southern approach to the centre of the village via Knowle Lane. It ensures that this country lane approach is not dominated entirely on both sides of the road by development and creates a more open rural feel.

What is the site area (in hectares)? Organisation or individual proposing site for designation.

Who owns the site?

Is the owner of the site aware of the potential designation? Do they support the designation?

Do you know if there is currently a planning application or permission for this site? Is the site allocated (in part or full) for development in the existing Local Plan or Neighbourhood Plan?

Is the site subject to any national or local designations or protections? These include Village Green status, Common Land, Green Belt, SSSI, AONB, Local Wildlife Sites.

0.81 hectares

Cranleigh Parish Council under the Neighbourhood Plan Owned by Waverley Borough Council

Yes WBC have agreed that we can designate this area as a green space under the Neighbourhood Plan.

There is no application or permission

The site is not allocated for development

The site has no designations or protections, it is an area of grassland including a children's equipped play area.

Size, scale and local character of proposed Local Green Space

Is the site an "extensive tract of land"? Is its size a reflection of its purpose or value? How large is it in relation to the settlement?

Is the proposed site "local in character"? How does it relate to surrounding settlement?

How far is the site from the community it serves?

Is the site publicly accessible?

The site is reflective of its purpose as the only public play area for residents on this side of the village. It is 0.6% of the settlement size (excluding Rowly).

The site is rural in character with boundary hedging and woodland as well as the Downs Link path that runs through the centre of the village which is protected as a movement corridor. Lashmere play area will have been originally part of the historic Cranleigh Common and is the only public recreation and play area for residents and visitors on the west side of Cranleigh.

It is adjacent to the community it serves.

Yes the site is accessible to all.

Is the site demonstrably special to the local community and hold a particular local significance?

What evidence has been submitted to show that the site is "demonstrably special to a local community?"

Is the site of particular importance due to its beauty? Does the site provide or feature in important views, contain particularly attractive features, and is it subject to any landscape designations?

Is the site of particular historic significance?

Is the site of particular recreational value?

Supported by the Parish Council Neighbourhood Plan. Evidence from the informal consultation July 2018. 84 residents agreed this should be protected as a green space. Individual comments are also available. The northern boundary of the site is part of an area of Priority Habitat of Deciduous Woodland (Magic database). It is listed in the National Forest Inventory as Broadleaved Woodland and a UK BAP priority habitat which covers a wide range of semi-natural habitat types and were those that were identified as being the most threatened and requiring conservation action under the UK Biodiversity Action Plan. Priority area for Countryside Stewardship measures addressing Brown Hairstreak and Lapwing habitat issues.

Originally part of the historic Cranleigh Common which the village settlement grew up around.

It is regularly used by families as a designated children's play park and informal recreation area, bordering on the Downs link path which is used extensively by walkers, including dog walkers and cyclists. The area has been in existence for well over 30 years and provides public access at all times.

Is the site of particular value for its tranquillity? No

Is the site of particular value with respect to wildlife and biodiversity?

Due to the nature of the site it borders rich woodland habitat suitable for bats and potential for thousands of species including our most loved animals and plants. Badgers, foxes, hedgehogs, butterflies and birds.

Is the site of particular importance for any other reason?

Lashmere field is part of the historic Cranleigh Common and is on a key gateway on the main road (Elmbridge Road) into the village providing a break in the built form and a natural rural edge to the village.

The designation is supported by Cranleigh Parish Council and 71 residents supported this designation with only 1 objection during the informal. The angling club has approximately 80 paid members.

The site is a green wildlife oasis in the middle of a built-up area and contains two large ponds.

N/A

The site is of significant recreational value for Cranleigh Angling Society members. The club was established in 1927. The club has a full fixture list which is published on their website http://www.cranleighangling.co.uk

The ponds provide a peaceful spot in a built-up area and a haven for wildlife.

Surrey Wildlife Trust has reported that "Like many forms of habitat, the UK's ponds have come under increasing pressure from agriculture and development. An estimated 50% of ponds vanished in the 20th century". The two Cranleigh ponds are stocked by the fishing club with Tench, Carp, Crucian Carp, Perch, Roach and Rudd. The ponds contain a number of dragonfly and damselfly, together with water boatmen, pond skaters and water beetles and mayflies. It is also home to toads and frogs, although with more development in the area the toad corridors to the pond are under severe threat. Trees around the ponds are suitable for bat roosts, numbers have been reported to be diminishing over the past two years as development in the area has increased along with reducing hedgehog numbers.

Although fish do reduce the wildlife value of the pond, it is a valuable source of drinking water for mammals and attracts insects for small mammals and a variety of birds.

In the past club members have witnessed a kingfisher nesting in the banks of the ponds, although this was some years ago now.

It is a Priority area for Countryside Stewardship measures addressing Brown Hairstreak and Lapwing habitat issues (Magic database). Contribute towards a natural flood management system in the local area.

Is the site of particular importance for any other reason? Does it form a key gateway into the village, or form an important part of the townscape?

Registered common land (CL181). Part of the Cranleigh Conservation Area.

Size, scale and local character of proposed Local Green Space

Is the site an "extensive tract of land"?

The Common includes woodland, open spaces, ponds and a double avenue of mature maple trees. The Common is part of the Cranleigh Conservation Area, all trees are protected by TPOs. It includes the Cranleigh Cricket Green. The area covers less than 5% of the Cranleigh settlement area (excluding Rowly).

Is the proposed site "local in character"?

How far is the site from the community it serves?

Is the site publicly accessible?

It is adjacent and integrated into the village and is used for a number of village events each year It extends along the High Street and is immediately adjacent to community it serves. Yes, it is accessible at all times to the public

Is the site demonstrably special to the local community and hold a particular local significance?

What evidence has been submitted to show that the site is "demonstrably special to a local community?"

The site is being put forward by the Parish Council. In an informal consultation with residents in July 2018 91 people confirmed that the Common should be designated as a local green space with 0 objections. Individual supporting comments available.

See Cranleigh Conservation Appraisal adopted 19 July 2016.

Is the site of particular importance due to its beauty?

The site provides the major area of greenspace close to the centre of the village. It has several key views identified in the Cranleigh Conservation Area Appraisal adopted 19 July 2016.

Is the site of particular historic significance? Does the site contribute to the setting of any heritage assets, is it featured in art or literature, is it associated with any important historic events or the development of the village?

The site contains several historic features. The remains of an historic Windmill (Killick's Mill) built C18 partially demolished 1917. A commemorative drinking fountain at the north end of the Cricket Ground erected by Cranleigh School in 1897 to commemorate Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee. The Grade II listed War Memorial erected in c1920 at the eastern end of the Common. Home of Cranleigh Cricket Club founded in 1856.

Is the site of particular recreational value? Is it used for sports, or informal recreation such as dog walking? How long has it been used, and who has access?

The site includes Cranleigh Cricket Club and Cricket Academy with pitches and a clubhouse bordered by a newly coppiced willow hedge. The Common is used for Cranleigh's Carnival, bonfires, fireworks and carnival stalls. It is used daily by walkers, including dog walking. The settlement of Cranleigh grew up around the Common from circa 1170 when St Nicolas Church was first built to the east of the Common (Cranleigh A History Of Wealden Settlement (Christopher Budgen).

Is the site of particular value for its tranquillity? Is the site secluded? Has the site been recognised as tranquil, for example through the CPRE's tranquillity maps?

CPRE's tranquillity maps?
Is the site if particular value with respect to wildlife and biodiversity? Is the site subject of any formal wildlife designations? Have surveys identified the presence of priority habitats or species? Is the site subject of any local enhancement or monitoring projects by the local community?

The Common provides a tranquil green space in the centre of the village.

Great Crested Newts are present in the Stonewall Pond on the High Street area of the Common. A wildlife corridor with wood piles has been created around the pond with wild flowers. There are a further two ponds, one on the northern tip of the Common and the other on the northern edge of the Guildford Road. These are maintained by Waverley Borough Council with the assistance of volunteers. This site is a priority area for Countryside Stewardship measures addressing Brown Hairstreak and Lapwing habitat issues. (Magic Database). The Common includes an area (on the eastern edge) of Priority Habitat for deciduous woodland and Wood Pasture and Parkland. It is also listed in the National Forest Inventory for Broadleaved woodland. A significant feature of the Common is the distinctive avenue of Norway Maples which extends the length of the High Street and were initially planted in 1904.

Is the site of particular importance for any other reason? Does it form a key gateway into the village, or form an important part of the townscape?

The Common forms the key gateway on the western end of the village and provides Cranleigh with its unique visual appearance.

events or the development of the village?

The Bruce McKenzie Field is named in memory of the former owner of Knowle Park, now a nursing home, who was a British Intelligence operative and Kenyan Minister for Agriculture. He was killed when the plane in which he was travelling was blown up over Uganda in 1978. The field was part of the historic parkland surrounding Knowle Park House.

right).

Is the site of particular recreational value? Is it used for sports, or informal recreation such as dog walking? How long has it been used, and who has access?

It has been used for various community events, football and the weekly Parkrun route sections.

The Parish Council is further developing its sports use.

Is the site of particular value for its tranquillity? Is the site secluded? Has the site been recognised as tranquil, for example through the CPRE's tranquillity maps?

This use has been largely extended over the past 8 years, since it was transferred to the ownership of the Parish Council.

Surrey Landscape Character Assessment 201

Surrey Landscape Character Assessment 2015: confirmed this area as "A rural tranquil landscape, due to limited influence from settlement and road, and woodland blocks."

Is the site if particular value with respect to wildlife and biodiversity? Is the site subject of any formal wildlife designations? Have surveys identified the presence of priority habitats or species? Is the site subject of any local enhancement or monitoring projects by the local community?

Cuckoo's were recorded on Woodland to the North of the site on the National Biodiversity Network (NBN). Woodland to the South West of the field has had 409 listed species recorded on the NBN Atlas database.

On the Magic Map databased the field is marked as a Priority area for Countryside Stewardship for the Brown Hairstreak Butterfly and Lapwing.

It is in a drinking water safeguard zone for surface water and with areas of Priority Woodland Habitat located to the north (since destroyed), east and south of the site.

The field is also adjacent to an Area of Strategic Visual Importance (local designation).

Is the site of particular importance for any other reason? Does it form a key gateway into the village, or form an important part of the townscape?

Size, scale and local character of proposed Local Green Space

Is the site an "extensive tract of land"? Is its size a reflection of its purpose or value? How large is it in relation to the settlement?

The site could possibly be regarded as 'an extensive tract'. However, the East Horsley Neighbourhood Plan designated Sheepleas an area of 39 hectares as an LGS in recognition of the very special importance which this space plays in the lives of East Horsley residents. The Knowle Park site is within reasonable proximity of the community it serves, and once new approved development is built will be positioned adjacent to this housing on the settlement boundary. Its history, ecological value, beauty and landscape value together with its recreational opportunities means its designation meets the Basic Conditions. The area is situated outside the settlement boundary and in size is equivalent to approximately 6.7% of the settlement of Cranleigh (excluding Rowly).

Is the proposed site "local in character"? How does it relate to surrounding settlement?

It is immediately adjacent to the proposed settlement boundary

How far is the site from the community it serves?

Is the site publicly accessible?

It is adjacent to the community it serves on the amended settlement boundary proposed in the Cranleigh Neighbourhood Plan. Yes via footpath FP393

Is the site demonstrably special to the local community and hold a particular local significance?

What evidence has been submitted to show that the site is "demonstrably special to a local community?"

This parkland site is used for a weekly Cranleigh Park Run with recent numbers rising to approximately 110 participants across varying age groups per event, in addition to 17 volunteers. Its popularity has grown and since inception has averaged 75 participants a week, with a total of 3,196 different runners across 230 events. The Cranleigh Junior parkrun held on Sunday mornings, has averaged 55 runners and 17 volunteers over the past 4 events. Since inception, it's had an average of 46 runners (aged 4-14) a week, with a total of 300 different runners completing 31 events. Footpath 393 crosses the site and is a popular daily route for walkers, including dog walkers.

During an informal consultation for the Neighbourhood Plan

During an informal consultation for the Neighbourhood Plan in July 2018 88 residents agreed this should be protected as a green space with only 1 disagreeing. Individual supporting comments are also available.

Is the site of particular importance due to its beauty? Does the site provide or feature in important views, contain particularly attractive features, and is it subject to any landscape designations? Identified as Historic landscape parkland and arable farmland on the Surrey Interactive map. Part of the WW6 Dunsfold to Pollingfold Wooded Low Weald character area as outlined in the Surrey Landscape Character Assessment: Waverley Borough April 2015. This is a large Character Area, to the south of Cranleigh. It is defined by woodland cover, the edge of the Cranleigh and the Wey and Arun Canal River Floodplain, and the county boundary. The boundary follows woodland edges, and other easily recognisable features such as roads and field boundaries. Knowle Park is identified in the report as a high point in this landscape area and is visible from the Surrey Hills AONB as well as having unobstructed views of the Surrey Hills from the site.

It is part of the landscape area CL1a in the Waverley Borough Council Landscape Study – Part 1: Farnham & Cranleigh. This is highlighted as having high landscape value and sensitivity with many landscape qualities.

76 Mesolithic flints, including one microlith, were found nearby at Knowle by the Surrey Archaeological Society TQ 055 382.

This green space is a fragment of what was originally part of Knowle Manor (a division of Utworth Manor) established after the division of the vast Bramley Estate (mentioned in the Domesday Book) in 1241 upon the death of John de Fay. The first recorded mention of Knowle Manor is in 1303. St Nicolas Church in Cranleigh established in 1170 has on display armorial shields behind the altar of the families associated with the estate of Baynards, Vachery and Knowle. The southern transept of the church was also known as Knowle Chapel.

Source British History Online - In 1481–2 Knowle was conveyed to Robert Harding, master of the Goldsmiths' Company. He passed it on to his nephew Thomas Harding. Robert Harding who left property in order to contribute towards the maintenance of the aisle what was then called Our Lady Aisle in St Nicolas Church.

In 1549 William Harding of London, a dealer in textiles, died owning Knowle, which he left to his daughter Catherine, who subsequently married Richard Onslow in 1559. Richard was a barrister of the Inner Temple and attorney of the Duchy of Lancaster. In 1566-1569 he served as Solicitor General and was Speaker of the House of Commons from 1566 to 1571. He went on to purchase Clandon House from Sir Richard Weston in in 1641 and this has remained the seat of the Earls of Onslow for over two centuries. In 1657 Oliver Cromwell is reported to have stayed at Knowle House with a detachment of troops.

The manor remained in the Onslow family until 1815 when it passed to Mr. Hanham and Mr. Bradshaw and to Sir George F. Bonham.

The present house is thought to date from 1823. Gertrude Jekyll was recorded as working on the gardens in 1888. An image from 1845 of Knowle House is available on this website

There are areas of the site listed as priority habitat for deciduous woodland to the south and north of the site, with the southern area also listed in the National forest inventory as broadleaved woodland.

It is a Priority area for Countryside Stewardship measures addressing Brown Hairstreak and Lapwing habitat issues (Magic database).

Identified as an area of higher level stewardship theme (Magic database). This is a set of targeting maps to increase the environmental benefits delivered through Higher Level Stewardship. This data aims to help secure the most appropriate management in geographic areas where environmental outcomes are likely to be greatest. The targeting is first systematic joining together of information on biodiversity, landscape, natural resource protection, public access and historic interests.

Areas of the site are listed as both Woodland Priority Habitat and for Woodland Improvement and are of high spatial priority (Magic Database).

The parkland includes a river corridor - Littlemead Brook and an Osier bed. Badgers, Barn Owls and Bats, in addition to Red Kites and Otter have been recorded on the site.

See attached ecology report for planning application.

Is the site of particular importance for any other reason? Does it form a key gateway into the village, or form an important part of the townscape? The higher areas of the parkland are visible from the Surrey Hills AONB. It is an exceptional part of a diminishing rural landscape on the southern part of Cranleigh which is subject to several significant granted planning applications. It is positioned on the key southern approach road into the village.

The site is immediately adjacent to an area of high archaeological importance as was highlighted in the original planning application Ref WA/2004/0603 (see map above). The site is an area of play for surrounding residents particularly important for residents of the apartment buildings nearby.

The adjoining open field and ancient woodland to the western edge of the site have potential for rich woodland habitat suitable for bats and potential for thousands of species including our most loved animals and plants, including badgers, foxes, hedgehogs, butterflies and birds. There have been sightings recorded within 2km of the site in the National Biodiversity Network (NBN) Atlas database of fox, badger, grey squirrel, as well as bats, including the brown long-eared bat. There are also recordings of many species of birds including the blackcap warbler, coal tits and goldcrests.

This is a Priority area for Countryside Stewardship measures addressing Brown Hairstreak and Lapwing habitat issues (Magic database).

N/A

Is the site of particular importance for any other reason?

With new dwellings being built in the area with many flats and houses with none, or small gardens, the demand for a play area with an equipped area of play is crucial for residents and acts as a buffer between the development and the countryside beyond.

Part of Cranleigh Conservation Area adopted by Waverley Borough Council 19 July 2016. The site is of significant importance to the Cranleigh Community, both as a place of worship and as a heritage asset. It is located on a key gateway into the village and within an area containing several listed buildings which contribute largely towards the distinctive character of the village.

The village of Cranleigh grew up from the area immediately surrounding the church. The rectory was built on the grounds of an old house which was surrounded by a moat, a remnant of this still remains behind the site from which an established pond has been formed.

The site is of particular historic significance as the first church to be built on the site dates back to 1170 and is a Grade II listed building: List Entry Number: 1044371.

The cat sculptural detail in the north transcept is said to have been the inspiration for the Cheshire Cat in Lewis Carroll's Alice in Wonderland.

The Lych gate is also Grade II listed (List Entry Number: 1044370) and was built in 1880 by Mrs Bradshaw of Knowle, in memory of her husband John Bradshaw who was the High Sheriff of Surrey in 1865.

SUGGESTED GREEN SPACES FOR DESIGNATION
I his can include things like recreation, the wildlife, plants and trees, somewhere quiet to sit, now it looks, personal or historic significance.	Questionnaire No.
Somewhere quiet, plants, wildlife.	1
Modern developments do not always have gardens to allow for growing, so these allotments are vital for people who wish to grow their own.	2
Some houses/flats do not have gardens so allotments are important to those people. Especially as lots of people like to grow their own.	3,
Allotments are a great asset to the local community and bring people together. Also, we do not have a greengrocer in Cranleigh and it is wonderful to nave locally grown produce - if you are lucky enough to know someone with an allotment!	5,
Allotments are important to maintain	7,
Should be retained as allotments ideally, for use by those with small or no gardens. Certainly retain as a green space.	8,
A communal place for growing, should be made and kept available for residents with very small or no garden i.e. flat occupant. It can also be a place to sit, will encourage wildlife and give people a hobby they enjoy.	10,
Wildlife.	12, 45, 90, 95
You should encourage and protect allotments. Not everyone has a garden. It develops community spirit,	13,
t has allowed Cranleigh residents to grow their own food for years.	14,
These allotments provide a fabulous community for gardeners, many of whom have insufficient space at home to grow their produce. It also allows wildlife to flourish.	16,
Allotments to many are an alternative to owning a garden. Since you are encouraging proper affordable housing and a mixed community you should encourage allotments.	17,
Allow people to be more self-sufficient and reduce carbon footprint by having some homegrown fruit and veg.	22,
Allotments are vital to communities. Very important for people with no garden space of their own. Important to keep people able to grow their own food.	23,

It is a great communal place and allows people to create a space for growing their own food and helps people feel a sense of achievement through hard work.	25,
Provides a space for families and individuals to live sustainably. Informal place to make friendship, even if its just a 'hello, how are you?'	32,
I would like to utilise this space in future.	33,
We need space like this to encourage people who want to grow their own foot and who don't have sufficient space at home to do this.	35,
Wildlife and trees etc.	36,
Always well used and an asset to the local community.	37,

SUGGESTED GREEN SPACES FOR DESIGNATION
Elmbridge Allotments (owned by CPC) Tell us what is special to you about this place, or what you think could be improved. This can include things like recreation, the wildlife, plants and trees, somewhere quiet to sit, how it looks, personal or historic significance, events you have attended or things you are planning do there.	Questionnaire No.
This has been an allotment for long as I can remember. Always look well kept and fully utilised. Should definitely not be developed.	38,
It is important to maintain our allotment space for self sufficient and recreation.	40,
We used to have an allotment there need more allotment land. New houses rarely have enough garden.	41,
Important for villages with small or no gardens. Wildlife flourish.	42,
It's important that residents also want to nurture have space if they don't have their own private outside area (e.g. renters and flat dwellers).	43,
Environmental important - home grown fruit and veg.	44,
I feel that allotments are valuable resource and if people have worked for ages they should be kept.	46,
If sufficient people use this, then it should stay. If neglected/abandoned reconsider.	47,
Sustainable way to produce your own food. Good for health and well being.	48,
Allotments should be preserved. I believe there are currently waiting lists so demand is there for them, If anything they should be expanded.	56,

If space for extra housing was ever needed, then building in this area would probably have the least impact on most residents of Cranleigh.	58,
Important area for people to grow their own produce.	60,
I think allotments are precious for many reasons. Growing things to eat, the exercise and therapeutic and social benefits to name but a few.	61,
Important to retain allotments for lots of reasons - recreation/wildlife/plants and trees/ somewhere quiet to sit	62,
In the face of mass development any saving of a green space is critical and allotments have a significant social value.	63,
Important to have allotments	69,
With more and more new builds having small or no Gardens allotments are essential.	71,
have a garden and grow my veg there, but to those that don't its incredibly important for overall well being and health.	72,
Allotments are a fantastic way for people to get fit and grow their own food.	73,
Events - historic - recreation - Quiet to sit, could be improved with bench.	74,
Protection for future to encourage future people to grow their own etc. Part of sustainable environment etc.	75,

But I know many who do and value the space highly.	76,
Didn't know you could access it.	77,
Allows vegetable growing free space around for wildlife.	78,
When my husband retires, we may wish to have an allotment. I think people should be encouraged to have an allotment as they gain healthy eating and exercise from working the allotment.	80,
Amenities which should be protected.	81,
Birdlife corridor, wildlife corridor.	84,
But these allotments are needed for those who have a preference to have one.	85,
Important to local residents and people who use allotments.	86,
Really important to have areas that can provide food. Also a recreation area for gardeners. Social opportunities for many people.	89,

Wildlife, encourages community space,	91,
It is very important for parish councils to own local allotments. There is a national shortage of allotments, some with long waiting lists.	92,
g can g
Open space on west side of village, put to good use and good for environment and wildlife.	96,
Important green space.	97,
All these spaces are for the benefit of everyone	100,
Allotments are part of village life and fundamentally important to our living.	101
Good for people with small gardens.	102

Open Community Space.	1,
am hoping to take my baby grandchild here when she is old enough to enjoy the facilities.	5,
Spaces like this should be enhanced with trees and butterfly plants to encourage wildlife as well as grass areas for walking/sitting etc.	7,
/ital local amenity of green space.	8,
ovely playpark for all the children living in the area.	10,
deal play area.	14,
Sports and social vital to the development of family life and healthy growth in children. Any risks to such facilities should be avoided.	17,
Children are often using this space and the only park for children's use this side of Cranleigh.	22,
My children enjoy riding their bikes along the railway line to this playground. In heavily residential areas recreation areas are vital.	23,
There are many house with families in that are, this space provide a safe area for children to play as there is a main road that runs through the area.	25,

Children's play areas are important.	30,
Wildlife and play park	36,
I often take the grand children there for the playground and as a place to start our walk along the railway line.	37,
Children and now grandchildren love this playground. Shouldn't be lost.	38,
A space for children to play at this end of the village. Recreation space to walk.	42,
Very important for those living on the Elmbridge Road - it is a trek to get to the next nearest playground. (Drainage would improve it - soggy in winter).	43,
Clearly important for young families in the Elmbridge area.	45,
It stops children from having to go too far to play.	46,
Needs access sorted as muddy would go more, Ridiculous access as have to wade through mud. Good for young children.	47,
Used it a lot when my children were young. Move grass cuttings.	48,
It a good place for them to go and have some fun.	51,
It's a great place to take the children when they are at home.	52,

It is an ideal area for walking, playing and as a beautiful green space.	14,
We live next door to Snoxhall Fields.	15,
Large open space for recreation.	21,

Great for local sports and activity, nice place for picnics and dog walking. Again helps combat childhood obesity.	22,
Treat for local sports and activity, flice place for picflics and dog walking. Again fleips combat childhood obesity.	22, am a coach for Cranleigh Youth Football so use this space with children regularly. We also visit the park frequently for meeting with friends.	23,
Recreation.	30, 40, 84
Provides a great place for recreation and walkers and cyclist and other community events.	32,
Vidley used in the village.	33,
Quiet open space, tree lined - walking - dog walking.	34, as a Cranleigh Youth Club Coach (U8's 2018/2019) this is a very valuable community asset that provides space for young people to keep fit and the case of the youth football club benefit from being part of the FA four corner benefits phycological, social fitness. I clear the rubbish from this area on a weekly asis.	35, often use the play area with my grandchildren, my son plays football there each season. Its in the middle of the village and should be protected.	37,
Generations of Cranleigh football teams have played here, the play area and pavilion on a part of the community.	38,
Centre for sport activity in Cranleigh access to Downslink.	41,
Community space.	42,
his is one of the most useful areas in the village - so many activities happen there - too many to mention.	43,

This can include things like recreation, the wildlife, plants and trees, somewhere quiet to sit, how it looks, personal or historic significance, events you have attended or things you are planning do there.	Questionnaire No.
Grandchildren use it constantly for recreation, including football.	44,
Wonderful playground there where I take my grandchildren. Very central to the village.	45,
Space for children and adults to undertake exercise.	48,
Played football and cricket here as a child. The biggest? Green space in Cranleigh, vital for promoting sport/exercise for local children.	56,
This is an essential recreational area for the whole of Cranleigh. This is the only single big recreational area in Cranleigh and it will become even more valuable as recreational area when all the new additional housing has been built.	58,
Such an important part of Cranleigh for children and adults to play sports etc.	59,
Important open area for wildlife and for the people of Cranleigh to par take in sporting activities.	60,
Very pleasant green spaces to walk or cycle through for children to play, people to do sports, youngsters to meet, families to picnic, etc. I see a variety of birds there through the year because of the different trees, shrubs and hedges.	61,
How it looks, trees wildlife.	62,
Yes, Yes, Yes! It is appalling to think that they may be concreted and built over. Is there some dodgy and deceitful reason behind the proposal to build a new recreational centre somewhere else?	63,
With my grandchildren.	66,

Open space for all beautifully maintained sporting activities - lots of ?????? involved.	67,
Need for formal sports area. Consider more wider edges for wildlife benefit.	71,
Open space, traffic free. Seeing youngsters using this space makes me smile.	72,
Large area for sports.	73,
Wildlife plants - walking.	74,
Place for young people to meet and socialise.	75,
Climbing frame form for toddlers been xxx for over 6 years.	77,
Clear play area.	78,
Also used by parkrun (see comment for Bruce McKenzie playfield)	80,
Sports facility which should be maintained.	81,

events you have attended or things you are planning do there.	Questionnaire No.
Lovely to walk the dog and for the children to play.	83,
Sports activities.	86,
Wish to continue to enjoy open space.	88,
Use as a recreational space and link to village. Large calming area. Remove parking charges.	89,
Sports activities for all ages	90,
Keep as many green spaces as possible - especially tree areas.	91,
Recreation space for local people to help prevent obesity.	92,
Definitely.	93,
Central to village sports. Central play area of the community.	94,
I believe there should be extensive open areas on each side of Cranleigh for sport, recreation and environmental reasons.	96,
Involved with football and centenary garden. Important recreation space for Cranleigh.	97,
Green lung. Better drainage improve soil. Recreation, centenary garden looking lovely.	101

Wonderful space for children to play, football, play areas safe away from traffic.	102

This can include things like recreation, the wildlife, plants and trees, somewhere quiet to sit, how it looks, personal or historic significance, events you have attended or things you are planning do there.	Questionnaire No.
As mentioned before allotments are a key community asset in a village that does not have a greengrocer.	5,
Allotments are important to keep.	7,
Important wildlife area.	8,
This area is essential for family recreation, wildlife, plants and trees and must never be touched.	10,
Green space.	12,
Allotments to many are an alternative to owning a garden. Since you are encouraging proper affordable housing and a mixed community you should encourage allotments.	17,
See points re allotments, Beryl Harvey Field - Conservation Area have visited with my children and with local families when I manage the Sure Start Children's Centre.	23,
The wildlife is again a vitally important space as it is a haven for birds, mammals, reptiles, amphibians and insects in terms of butterflies close. Last week I saw, large small and Essex skippers. Common meadow brown, gatekeeper, large, small and green veined white, silver washed fritillary and Cinnabar moth (doing the vital job of controlling Ragwort).	35,
Wildlife and trees etc	36,

Don't know this area.	38,
As per previous allotments.	40,
Belong to conservation group that maintain area. Vital for bio-diversity.	41,
Use the space with my Rainbow unit for activities. It is our designated fairyland! We enjoy the wildlife.	42,
A quiet place - good for wildlife.	43,
Read a lot about how prized this is by those who use it.	44,
Unique wildlife habitat. Gift to Parish Council from widower of Beryl Harvey for this purpose. This should be respected.	45,
Onique wildine habitat. Gift to Parish Council from widower of Beryl Harvey for this purpose. This should be respected.	45,
Supported by passionate team.	47,
All allotments should be retained.	48,
To hold off building.	50,

all the new additional housing will increase the need for recreational space of different types.	58,
Precious community resources where wildlife is being encourage, recorded and nurtured. Great way of inviting people in the community.	61,
Recreation.	62,
his area of land was dedicated for public use - not for the profit of developers (or anyone else).	63,
Retain as wildlife habitat and a quiet area to sit and ponder.	71,
have a garden and grow my veg there, but to those that don't its incredibly important for overall well being and health.	72,
oo much green space going, this is pleasant open space.	73,
ullotments should be available. Enjoy walking through there.	80,
Vildlife.	84,

Keep as many green spaces as possible - especially tree areas.	91,
Important as a managed area for plant and animal diversity.	92,

leeds benching and trees re-instated horse chestnut, but also regular ground maintenance, maybe some flower borders	2,
commons are an historic open space for the people to enjoy and should remain so.	5,
his small green has got to be preserved with benches etc.	10,
Ve need these green spaces for wildlife, walking, we cannot fill every green space with houses.	14,
this area were to be built on it would be detrimental to the history and architecture of this area of the village.	23,
is a great public place for exercise and relaxation.	25,
Valking.	30,
isual amenity - beautiful trees.	34,
s open space.	36,
can see no reason for this to be kept green.	38,

As per all common land.	40,
Part of my route to the village on foot. Beautiful chestnut tree in the middle.	45,
n front of beautiful home and should be protected.	47,
This is a small space that contributes to the character and beauty of Cranleigh.	58,
Adds to pleasant character of the area. Pleasant to walk through and sit.	61,
Historic.	62,
Could be formally cut or left as meadow with "desire lines" cut more frequently.	71,
It's a green space amongst tarmac and bricks and concrete.	72,
Preserve a little bit of green area.	80,
I often see people sitting on the bench here and just watching the world go by. A lovely thing to do.	89,
Keep as many green spaces as possible - especially tree areas.	91

Seating and small play area since there are, many families with small children in this area. Currently dog walking mostly.	2,
One of the only dog walking areas for local people. Maybe a play area for the families in the area.	3,
There is already quite a high density housing area, the green areas stop it from becoming like an inner city estate.	5,
Local people need quiet space for peace.	6,
All housing estates need green spaces to enhance quality of life and encourage wildlife etc.	10,
We walk our dogs here every day, either to walk around the estate. It is a fantastic space for the local community where we meet and chat, it gives us a safer community.	16,
/ery special local area, contains ancient oak trees, woodland, pond with resident moorhens and newts.	21,
This is a heavily developed area and the green spaces allow a small area of tranquillity and should be saved.	22,
My relatives live in this area. My niece lives in a flat with her son. They have no garden - green spaces are important to families in similar situations.	23,
The area us already heavily developed and as a resident having trees and greenery make it a much nicer environment to live in and raise a family.	25,
All green space on Summerlands should be protected. The R.A maintain it to a high standard.	26,
All estates should have safe green space.	33,
green 'living; - walk to visit daughter - beautiful trees essential part of estates	34,
Open space.	36,
walk my dog on these green spaces. People need to have green spaces around them. Children need space to play and capture.	37,
t is a haven of 'green' in a very developed area.	38,

children play areas. Space to wind down.	42, lave friends living there. Vital to maintain for children to play and adults to enjoy green space.	45,
welcome field of green spaces surrounded by houses.	46,
menity for local residents - to build and would change the face of local areas.	47,
eating would be nice, walking the dog, enjoying the seasons changing, picking blackberries. Daily walking.	54,
Valking the dog. Enjoy the changing seasons.	55,
the biggest green space on Summerlands should be preserved to prevent Summerlands turning into a concrete block.	56,
his must be greatly valued by local residents.	58,
he open green areas are a valued asset to people living on the estate.	62,
Valking with my grandchildren - safe space for riding bikes and scooters. Also involved with keeping area free from litter and general tidy clearing ubbish/can/bottles etc. Also clearing overgrown shrubbery/weeds by the pond and wooded area (along Rydelands)	66,
These green areas contribute to the ambience of the Summerland's estate and hence the well being of the residents. For the last 8 years the Summerland states Residents Association has worked with WBC and its Rangers to maintain these green areas especially the Summerland's pond and slip of wood where residents have carried out conservation events. Our concerns at present is the management of the meadow which although has been used for sport ctivities in the past is not maintained in a manner suitable for use at the present time.
ess frequent cutting of grass to allow meadow feel to develop. Desire walk lines and path edges to be cut more frequently. Needs more seating as it s a uiet place to sit.	70,
's not all jammed in, so gives a calmness.	72,
grew up here and it was fantastic place to play. Lovely green space in housing estate.	73,
Vildlife - plants - trees and pond - walking - cycling - would benefit with the occasional bench.	74,
here has been a massive improvement on estate since SER was formed with work on green spaces to pond (protected newts)	75,

am a resident of Summerlands and value the open green spaces highly.	76,
Love it since updated and cleared.	77,
We walk the children through here so we do not need to drive into Cranleigh. This means we can walk our dog too.	83,
Somewhere for people who live or estate to go to.	84,
mportant green space for this busy area. Which provides rural style links to village and schools.	89,
High density housing - space required children's play	90,
Keep green spaces and recreational areas - need trees/grassy areas to negate C02 levels pollution.	91,
mportant shared green space for local young people.	92,
There is a strong community feel on this estate and we all appreciate the space and open areas. Strong residents association. very much enjoy the pond area and the open space at the back. This is the main open spaces this side of Cranleigh. The trees and grass areas are important for wildlife and environment. The development of a wild flower meadow would create extra attraction for wildlife such as bees and outterflies.	06
Looks lovely. Green fading to high density housing.	96,

ook of space for neighbourhood children to play.	6,
ovely green recreational space for use by the local residents of this high density housing area.	8,
ark Mead looks like a cramped car park as it is, it cant hold more cars and more houses would negatively impact on the area.	22,
used to live in Hailey Place on the top floor. I lived here with two small children and used the green behind regularly to play and a place to have ome peace and quiet.	23, his area was a huge part of my childhood and was a great environment to grow up in. It gave me space to play, exercise. I feel that future enerations would benefit from them too.	25, used to live on Park Mead. The green areas are part of the unique character of this community. Gardens are small because the open spaces are sed for recreation and family activities/event.	32,

Jse Alfold and Dunsfold tennis clubs - incredible that we have no easily accessible public courts in Cranleigh.	91,
t is credible that a village the size of Cranleigh does not have a tennis club. I would definitely use it weekly if it was rescued from its current poorstate, given a clubhouse etc.	92,

This is an essential sports facility that should be built on. Important for health benefits. Vital facility for sports and all and lottery funded.	94,
Good to have in centre need maintaining.	101,

This beautiful area is already being built on. The views are wonderful. There are deer and rabbits at dawn and dusk.	5,
Frequent walking and Park Run jog	6,
Wildlife, plants, trees, essential to environment.	10,
We need these green spaces it is a beautiful parkland for wildlife, and walking.	14,
Very important area at base of the hills.	21,
Γοο late.	34,
The area is part of the route of Park Run and Junior Run	35,
Wildlife and open spaces.	36,
Green spaces need to be protected - use brown areas first!	37,

This is rolling green land and should be preserved.	38,
If we lose this green space our village will become undefined.	41,
Walk on it frequently. Recreation. Toboggan in the snow.	42,
We cant build on everything - lovely views.	47,
I am not sure how much of this will remain and how much of it will remain truly public in the long term after the housing development is completed.	58,
Great for sport and start of park run, which has become very popular. Surrounding fields (route of park run - not sure if this is Knowle Park Parkland) nave fabulous views and I often see yellowhammers in the hedgerow and sparrow hawks on regular perching posts which I come early in the morning. Popular for dog walkers.	61,
Historic. How its looks, wildlife, trees	62,
If this is built over, then presumably one might anticipate continuing development down both side of the whole of Knowle land.	63,
Grassland/amazing bird and wildlife. It doesn't need improving - Please leave it alone.	67,

Park run and dog walking.	73,
Recreation.	74,
To protect it from further development.	76,
Parkrun regular user and use frequently for walks.	80,
Beautiful area one of few large open spaces left.	84,
Really important as such a large housing development is now being built below it. This is an area that we can roam and enjoy without having to leave the village and it is really beautiful especially views from the hill.	89,
Sports routes - running club, and dog walkers.	90,
Keep green.	91,
It is awful that the green fields in this area have been destroyed by new housing estates by Waverley.	92,

Gorgeous space. Part of village ethos. Essential for older residents as green view.	94,

Openness. Historic significance. How it looks.	62,

Are there any other sites you would like to put forward.	Questionnair No.
Voodlands off of Wanborough Lane - full of wildlife, flora and fauna.	5,
All the green spaces should be retained and enhanced to encourage wildlife. All areas should have signs to indicate fines for litter left at bins provided. Even small areas are good for e.g. workers to sit and have a break or families. I can't write all the spaces but they should all be kept.	7,
Many site would benefit from dog waste disposal bins.	8,
You will see that I am very keen on green space designation. Bearing in mind the very high increase in number of houses being added over the next years - green space will be vital. The population, including Dunsfold from where many will visit Cranleigh, will double. Vigilance is Vital!	17,
All these green spaces enhance the area and improve quality of life.	34,
The whole area surrounding Cranleigh. There are now enough houses here we simply don't need anymore. The Cranleigh area is now overdeveloped.	35,
Vildlife must be protected - we are making life so very hard for them. Wildlife corridors must be protected.	37,
No, this once beautiful village is being ruined by unsympathetic building - enough is enough.	38,
Area in front of Vine Cottages off Alfold Road.	41, 42,

Smithwood Common. The 'bonfire' site and the filed across the road from this.	56,
As discussed flexibility is the key here - work to be done to determine needs of community in future not today.	57,
Anywhere else in the Parish of Cranleigh which is not already being built upon or for which planning permission is being sought (and will doubtless be given). Who is standing up for Cranleigh? Why is Cranleigh under-represented on Waverley Council? Surely enough is enough (with Dunsfold as well)!	63,
Green space adjoining Peregrine Close - space is looked after by Summerlands Residents Association. As are the various paths throughout the estate.	66,
Very important that the green areas proposed are joined up to provide corridors for wildlife e.g. hedgehogs	70,
